The local Board of Trade Field Day at Olds Agricultural School, which was to be held next week Wednesday, the 19th was postponed until the following Wednesday, July 26th.

This was a very interesting and educational event last year, and we are looking forward to a grand and glorious time again this summer, so, be out. Meet on main street at 1:00 p.m. sharp, and get a ride there.

Around Field And Barn.

Owing to lack of space, this valuable article is being held over.

Buzz Saw Man

Sustains Injuries

Messrs. Bell & Clarke were sawing ties at the C. Nielsen farm over the weekend, when, while preparing another to apply to the saw, one of the men fell and the ties rolled on top of him. Dr. Edwards, of Airdrie, attended to him, finding the injuries not very serious.

H. J. Scholefield Has Record Wheat & Rye

We were recently informed that H. J. Scholefield has the record wheat and rye, the former is 47 inches high and the latter 6 feet.

The frequent and heavy rains have increased the growth of grain in the district, and, with the present warm sunshine, this year, provided nothing drastic happens, should be another 1928

Clarence Riddell Seriously Scalded

We were informed that Clarence Riddell was seriously scalded Friday morning, last, July 7th. He walked around to the front of the tractor, which he had been operating, when the radiator cap flew off and the boiling water squirted all over his body. He managed to walk to his home, where he collapsed, and was later taken to Carstairs, where Dr. Lerner attended to him.

Clarence is up and around again, and is progressing favourably.

Water Valley Notes.

Clifford Gordon, who was injured at a picnic, was taken to a hospital, where he underwent an operation. He is doing as well as can be expected.

Dan's hat was returned and brought a little brown one with it. (Thanks)

A dance was held at Foster's and a rip-roaring time was reported. Not much rip but lots of roar.

Our Sherriff has left Trouble some Valley, and so has all the lumber. Let us hope for peace and rest.

Oscar and Major were planning a double wedding for September, but comparing notes found they were both marrying the same girl. (Lucky lass)

Warning to those travelling the Red Deer above Coivins: Bill says, 'as the river has changed its course since the rains and there are some awful washouts.

There was a Social Credit meeting at Water Valley last Thursday. Mr. King, M.L.A., and Mrs. Gostick, M.L.A., were the speakers. A childrens' play was also staged, and an enjoyable evening was had by all.

When Guy Gasely drove up Broadway last Saturday, we wondered what he was looking for, but it was just one of his orchestra.

Ladies, look out for six-gun Kelly.

The Water Valley slogan last week was, "See you in Calgary Monday."

Chronicle Essays

The following is the first essay received from one of our readers, who apparently takes an interest in our little paper. We trust more will do likewise, sending in a brief essay on what they think of the Crossfield Chronicle.

The Chronicle performs a useful service to the Community.

Consideration is shown in local news for those concerned. "Goozles," supplies a bit of refreshing humour.

The special articles are interesting and instructive. "Letters to the Editor" column deserves the thanks of correspondents.

A more original editorial column might be appreciated. News items from more outlying centres are needed. More subscribers would be reflected in an even better paper.

Suggest McCool As 'Independent'

R. Milton McCool, of Edmonton, formerly of Crossfield, Alberta, former M.L.A. for the Cochrane constituency for ten years, may run in that constituency as an Independent candidate in the next provincial election, according to reports current in Calgary recently.

Mr. McCool was elected as a U.F.A. member for Cochrane in 1926 and was re-elected in 1930.

At the present time the seat is held by W. R. King, "Social Credit", who was elected in the general election of 1935.

Crossfield is in the centre of the Cochrane Constituency.

Crossfield Branch Canadian Legion B.E.S.L.

A meeting of the above will be held in the Masonic Hall, Crossfield, on WEDNESDAY, JULY 19, at 8:00 p.m. Special business to be discussed. All veterans welcome.

A Message from the King

The following is a letter received by the local branch of the Canadian Legion, from His Majesty the King:

MINISTER OF PENSIONS AND NATIONAL HEALTH

One of the most notable features of my Canadian tour has been the appearance everywhere of large and well-organized detachments of Veterans. It has always been a pleasure to me to see them, not only because of the particularly friendly character of their welcome, but also because their presence has given me some opportunity of showing my high appreciation of their past services to their country.

I know well that the ideals that inspired them twenty years ago are still theirs, and that this fine body of men has never lost that sense of comradeship and of service to the common good which was perhaps the happiest legacy of the Great War.

The Queen and I send them our best wishes, and our sincere thanks for the very valuable work they did throughout Canada in connection with our visit.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, John H., Carstairs, and Walter, Edmonton; one daughter, Mrs. B. W. Beylea, Los Angeles, and several grandchildren.

Carstairs Stampede Viewed by Locals

Quite a number of the local people took in the stampede at Carstairs last week Wednesday, enjoying to the full the fun and excitement provided.

Among the judges we noticed the names of Jappy Rogers of Dog Pound, and Angus Robertson of Crossfield. Robertson also took second prize in wild cow milking, and Cecil Buschert of Dog Pound, first, and Robertson third in calf roping.

King George VI

A HISTORY IN THIRTY

CHAPTER THIRTY

"Kings are like stars. they rise and fall, they have
The worship of the world, but no repose."

—Shelley.

From the very first day when King George the Sixth and Queen Elizabeth assumed the heavy responsibilities of the throne of the greatest Empire in the history of the world. Their Majesties have shown that they possessed high ideals of their duties to the realm, even if these obligations involved any personal sacrifice.

When the unprecedented crisis, which had not been witnessed before in the whole history of the Royal Family, struck suddenly with the abdication of King Edward the Eighth, the Duke and Duchess of York lived in peace and true happiness at 145 Piccadilly, with only occasional visits abroad on a number of state missions or trips throughout the length of the land where their services were required as representatives of Royalty or for some worthy public service. Their home had a cheerful atmosphere, tastefully and beautifully furnished, and often it was the scene of entertainments of all kinds since the King and Queen were known as excellent hosts, but in face of the beautiful paintings, bronzes, carpets, huge library, many flowers, and the others around the house, it was not difficult to discover that there dwelt a real, home-loving father and mother and two children who did not care for conventionalities and who preferred love and toleration as a traditional spirit of their family life. This atmosphere in private life was reflected in the public life of this Royal couple.

Prior to the accession to the throne of the present King and Queen, it was a characteristic of Their Majesties that they always loved to see and find out things for themselves with complete freedom of action and thought as well as a lack of conventionality. Although they had many public engagements and ceremonies, including Court affairs, balls, drawing room banquets, and so forth, yet they always managed to find time to take full personal charge of every movement which they sponsored or aided, thereby sharing in the joys and troubles of their people's efforts to improve the conditions of work or play of the great masses, particularly when those efforts involved schemes to uplift the younger generation, to take care of the sick, the handicapped or the poor, or to better the life of the industrial and farm worker. This democratic characteristic of the personalities, sympathies, and idealisms of the young Royal couple had proven their fitness to follow in the footsteps of the great Kings and Queens who have sat on the throne in the centuries gone by and there is no doubt in the minds of anyone that history will record their reign as one which saw confidence and trust in kingship of a democratic kind brought to its highest point of unselfish service in the best interests of the welfare and happiness of a free and liberty-loving people.

MIRROR OF THE NATION by "Commoner"

In view of the approach of the general elections, July 8 was a significant date in Canada's national and political affairs. It was the first anniversary of Hon. R. J. Manion's selection as Leader of the National Conservative Party. In the year that has elapsed since Dr. Manion assumed the leadership the Conservative Party has become once more a potent force in the national life of the country. It now seems likely that Dr. Manion will set up a new record in party leadership. When he took over the reins a year ago the party fortunes were at a low ebb. It now seems to be on the cards that within a year and a half of his taking command he will have led the party from that position back to office and the control of government. His leadership, in the space of twelve months, has not only brought back to the ranks of the Conservative Party adherents who deserted it a few years ago, but has caused non-partisan people and many who are normally attached to other parties to look to him for national policies for Canada and for action towards the solution of national problems.

The World of Wheat. By H. G. L. Strange

"How are we going to sell the surplus of wheat, honey, apples, butter and other products which are now a burden on the market in Canada?"

This was the question put by Mayor Telford to the annual meeting of the Canadian Technical Agriculturalists at Vancouver.

Some answered "We must reduce production to the smaller amounts we are now selling and, by marketing board controls fix higher prices." Others said "Find industrial uses for these products." Still others thought "Help Canadian manufacturers to increase tariffs so as to stop foreign goods coming in, then Canadian industries will be built up and we will sell more agricultural products to Canadian people than we are now doing."

But the agricultural economists said "No, these suggestions are not sound. The true and proper method is to lower high tariffs and to remove other restrictions which are now strangling trade, and so permit more foreign goods to come in, and then foreign countries will be able to buy your surpluses of wheat and

Magic For Gardeners.

The stimulation of root growth in plant cuttings has been accomplished by the use of a new synthetic substance called 'Hortomone'. According to a writer in the June issue of C-I-L Oval, this preparation, which contains the properties of hormones, has already proved its value in several experimental stations and nursery gardens, where it has increased the rapidity of rooting and the percentage of success not only with cuttings that strike easily but with those which under ordinary circumstances are very difficult to root. By encouraging the rapid formation of a strong root system, this preparation minimizes the danger of attacks by fungi and bacteria. It also makes possible the taking of cuttings at any time of the year.

Millions of Targets Used

If anyone asked you to list the half-dozen most popular Canadian sports the chances are you might not include shooting. If you didn't you certainly would be wrong. Shooting is one of the most widely indulged in of Canadian sports, and one which all Canadians take to with a great deal of natural ability inherited from early settlers of this country.

Devotees of shooting are to be found in every village, town and city in the Dominion, says a writer in the current issue of C-I-L Oval. They include men and women boys and girls, and even those below average in size and strength are under no handicap in a sport where physical bulk and muscular strength are in themselves of no direct advantage.

Just how many Canadians are actually engaged in this sport is difficult to estimate, but Dominion Marksmen, one of the two major shooting organizations in Canada, has a continually growing registration list, with a current membership of over 35,000 sportsmen, all participating actively in target shooting of one sort or another, and this figure does not include the thousands of shooters unregistered nor those engaged in hunting activities.

other agricultural products, which we know, on undeniable authority, foreign people badly need and would buy if they "Besides which" the economists added "increased international trade leads to peace, and the present policy of restricted trade certainly leads straight to war."

Goozles

Bert Hoover holding down the street wrecker.

"How can people see my new sign if you always stand in front of it," says George Lim, now that he has a couple of new ones on the front of his cafe.

When asked if she would care for a ride on the merry-go-round she just said, "Thanks, I'm dizzy enough." Very few will admit it.

We wonder how he does it. Makes friends with them all, and in such a hurry, too.

Jean, Claire and Gene were seen enjoying a ride in a two-hoss shay, recently.

We hear that the C.G.I.T. campers at Sylvan Lake have gone Tuxis — Just for a change.

Spike and Rex, better known as the Texas Pale, will be there, too, with their yodelling and singing. These boys are really father and son, and are Albertans. Their home was at Dog Pound. Five years ago they started touring as a singing team, and have covered a lot of territory since then. They have appeared on stage and radio programs in Vancouver, Moose Jaw, Kamloops, Seattle, Calgary etc. You've heard them over CFAC Tuesday nights at 9 o'clock now you will get a chance to see them in person.

Lou Darby and his Hawaiians have some very smart and new arrangements all set for the occasion. They will appear on three different programs every afternoon. Lou and the boys will all be native costume. You have heard them every morning now for some time on "Good Morning Neighbour," so drop over to the CFAC studio, and see them at work.

Two of your favourite evening entertainers will also make an appearance. Herman Risby and Jack Friedenberg. These two clever artists will demonstrate singing, playing and dancing, not only as you like to hear it but as you like to see it. The name of the program and the time will be the same as their regular broadcasts: "Here We Are," at 10.15 every evening.

All your favourite announcers and operators and artists will be at the studio, so that you will be able to see them at work and meet them after the broadcasts. Incidentally, they have some surprises for you, but you'll have to be there. Now, here is where we'll be, so you won't miss us. Go in the first door of the grandstand building, as you walk south along the Midway Walk straight ahead to the end of that aisle. . . and there we will be to greet you. So, we'll see you all at the CFAC Studio, Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, July 10th to 15th.

Man Behind the Scenes

If you see a young fellow at the Stampede about five feet ten inches in height, dark hair smoothed straight back, wearing a grey corduroy jacket and running about with cables, microphones, amplifiers and sundry equipment, that will be our Chief Engineer, Earle Connor. He has more on his mind than a prime minister, especially now, getting ready for the Stampede. Earle just shrugs his shoulders and says, "It's all in a day's work." Some of us have followed him on his "day's work," and confidentially, we'd prefer a nice quiet twenty-four hours stoking coal.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Cochrane and family left Monday a.m. for Spokane, Wash., where they will spend the week at the home of the former's sister, who is seriously ill.

The streets of the village took on a very deserted appearance Monday last, when, from the looks of things, almost everyone was taking in the stampede or sheltering from the boiling sun.

Visiting friends and relatives in the west: Mrs. J. P. Metheral's mother and sister, Mrs. E. Chambers of Dunedin, Ont., and Mrs. H. Neff of Ottawa; are guests at Spruce Grove this week.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES.

Services at Rodney and Tan-y-Bryn next Sunday.

The pastor and six boys from the country, Tom and George Milner, Walter Rowley, Bruce Brandon, Len and Stanley Price, are at home, following attendance at the Fairweather Boy's Camp. The showery weather seems to have reduced the enrolment of all camps last week, but this camp was one of the very best, with the leaders becoming well acquainted with the boys and every boy receiving individual attention. Rev. H. M. Horricks, of DeWinton, the founder and business manager, again was the ideal host. Mr. Doug Thornton, director of Boy's work in St. Paul's United Church, Calgary, was the Director of the Camp program. There were a few mosquitoes but no discomfort from rain, because of the spacious dining hall and dormitory. The camp fare was abundant and appreciated by everyone. Trail Ranger activities were well carried out. Vespers and camp-fire programs were popular as usual. Mr. Hunt conducted a Sunday morning service before returning for his afternoon and evening services. Voting the camp one of the very best, all were packed up in time Monday morning to see the Stampede parade.

Services will be conducted as usual for the next four Sundays. The pastor and family will leave about July 24th for Revelstoke, where Mr. Hunt will supply the pulpit of the United Church for a month. Mr. McClellan of Calgary will take the services for July 30th and August 6th. Mr. Hunt will return for services on August 27th. There are no services planned for August 13th and 20.

Young people from Crossfield conducted an appreciated service at Madden last Sunday morning, with Wilda Laut giving a report of a young people's conference in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Cowling, Mr. and Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. Buchwald, mother of Mrs. Jensen were present at the baptising of the infant daughter, Eva Ruth, of Mr. and Mrs. Svend Jensen, at their home last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Hunt officiated at and Mrs. Hunt and Harold and Gwendolyn, also Mr. and Mrs. Tredaway and family, attended the marriage of Aileen Mae McCullough, of Champion, to Alexander McKay Sutherland of Winnipeg, in Calgary, on Wednesday of last week. The bride was an active member of the Sunday School and C.G.I.T., during Mr. Hunt's pastorate in Champion. Acquaintance was renewed with many former friends.
